WHERE WERE YOU ON THE NIGHT OF FEBRUARY 14, 1940?*

Memories are short, but few will forget the hazards of that night a year ago - nor the bitter cold and ice preceding and following it.

Now is the time when wise New Englanders seek the comfort and security of traveling via Boston and Maine. They know New England weather - its quick-changing temperatures with icy highways and snow-blocked roads. They know the warm comfort and the speedy and economical service on our trains. That's why thousands of people are every day commuting by Boston and Maine - enjoying the pleasure of riding in a well-heated car that brings them to their destination safe and sound - relaxed and refreshed.

★ Feb. 14, 1940 - Date of the 1940 Big Blizzard - it paralyzed traffic and left many an automobile snow-bound on the streets for three to four days, and the always reliable trains were the only means of transportation to or from many communities.

ONCE UPON A TIME the Phillips Academy glee and banjo clubs made their first appearance on February 4, at the Kirmess given by the November Club, this was FIFTY YEARS AGO. The class of '87 of Pynchard High School, twelve members in all, decided to hold a class reunion. Eleven accepted invitations, and those present were: Alice Gage, Marlon L. Stott, Clara L. Carruth, Winnie Burtt, Mrs. Edward Brown (Elsie Gilbert), Bessie Walker, Ida Holt, Agnes Abbott, Mary Mason, and Messrs. Henry W. Barnard, Colver J. Stone and Perley Gilbert. W. P. Graves, son of Prof. Graves of Phillips Academy, is coaching the football team in the University of South Carolina. The officers of the Shawsheen Council, Home Circle for 1891, were installed last Friday evening by Deputy G. A. Parker. They are as follows: Leader, E. S. Gould; vice leader, C. B. # ble a Tax Rate Probably Same; Finance Committee Approves Fire Truck, New Dump, All B.P.W. Articles; Disapproves Collection Of Garbage

Unless Andover's town meeting goes haywire—and Andover's town meetings don't often do that—the tax rate will be no higher this year than it was last. If the meeting follows the finance committee's recommendations exactly, the rate may be about the thirty dollar level of a year ago.

The committee is recommending appropriations of $678,385.43 for 1941 as against last year's actual appropriations of $668,869.28 or an increase of $9516.15. It estimates an increase in valuation of $150,000, and this is probably a bit on the conservative side.

Departmental budgets approved totalled $622,663, whereas last year the committee approved about $617,000. Of particular interest was the refusal to grant the $500 increase requested by the moth superintendent and the decision to lop off the preliminary budget request for extra funds to provide two extra firemen. Most of the budgets were approved as presented.

Of the special articles the finance committee has given approval to the following: article 6, $13,500 ladder truck; article 7, $1033 fire chief's car; article 8, $2750 two-way radio system for police department; article 12, $1200 new telemeters for reservoirs; article 13, $1,000, maintenance of chapter 90 highways; article 15, $2,500, sidewalks; article 16, $700, B. P. W. lawn mower and wings; article 17, $500, sewer cleaning devices; article 18, $5,000, hard-surfacing gravel roads; article 19, $8,000, welfare work material, supervision and truck hire; article 20, $3750, River road; article 21, $140, lead melting furnace; article 22, $1500, reconditioning sewer pumps; article 23, $2300, sidewalk mechanical plow.

Article 24, $4,000, purchase of new town dump; article 26, $2326.67, Cheever Circle water mains; article 28, $2680, Foster Circle water mains; article 39, $2560, Beacon street water main; article 42, $980, Spring Grove road water main; article 61, $580, Abbot street water main.

Articles were disapproved as follows: Article 9, $500, stoker at Town Infirmary; article 10, $935 tree department truck; article 11, $275, tree department mower; article 34, $1,182.50, Princeton avenue water main purchase; article 36, $632.50, Lincoln Circle water main purchases; article 37, $1500, elimination of Highland road bend; article 38, $1600, elimination of Dascomb road bend; article 40, $2,350, Shlakis water main; article 41, $2,100, Robidoux water main; article 43, $1,800, Vine street water main; article 44, $800, ice skating areas; article 45, $2,500, Shawshen school grounds improvement; article 46, $12,000, garbage collection; article 47, $1,000, writing of town history; article 48, $625, Salem street corner cut-back; article 49, $1200, survey of drainage in eastern section of town; article 50, $1250, Haverhill street sidewalk; article 51, $1500, repairing sidewalks in Shawshen; article 57, $2100, Moraine street sewer; article 58, $540, hard surfacing Moraine street; article 60, $1,425, Abbot street water main; article 63, $443.64, Bradley avenue water main purchase; article 64, $1250, Haggetts pond land purchase.

Spitfire Fund Off To Good Start

Thousands of letters went out this week in Andover's and North Andover's campaign to raise $6500 to be added to the Spitfire fund of Andover, England. It is hoped that contributions will come forth as a result of this letter; after February 26th, solicitors will be sent out in a house-to-house drive.

The letters weren't out long before contributions started coming in. One of the first was from Cornelius A. Wood, who wrote as follows:

Dear Mr. Hardy:

I have your very welcome letter on behalf of the Andover Spitfire Fund, to provide the Town of Andover, England, with a Spitfire Fighting Plane to drive off Nazi bombers from the native heath and hearth. I further see that your goal is $6,500 to be raised in Andover and North Andover. That five hundred dollars on the end is an eyesore which I am eliminating by my check mailed today to Mr. E. A. Anderson of the Andover National Bank and made out to the "Andover Spitfire Fund."

I hope that this action will inspire others to make their contributions, large or small, promptly, to eliminate the balance of $6000, action real soon.

so that our "Spitfire" can get into

Cordially yours,

Cornelius A. Wood

WEDDINGS

Thayer-Fairweather

Miss Ruth M. Fairweather, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Fairweather of 104 Summer street, became the bride of Ernest W. Thayer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thayer, at a pretty candle-light service held at the home of the bride's mother Tuesday evening. Rev. Herman C. Johnson officiated at the double ring service.

The bride wore a silk jersey dress with white velvet ribbons, and her veil was of Brussels lace. She carried a Colonial bouquet. The home was decorated with ferns, jonquils and sweet peas.

Guests were present from Somerville, Danvers, Wenham, Hamilton, Lynn, Arlington, Bedford and Andover.

The couple were classmates at Essex Agricultural school. Mr. Thayer operates a dairy farm in Wenham.

Andover's Expense Accounts Kept Well In Check In Last Decade

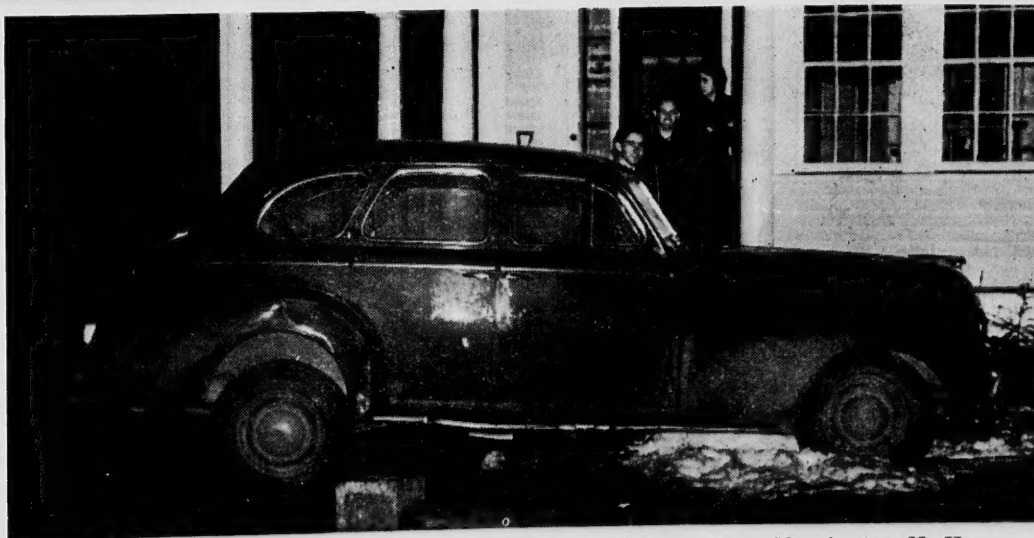

Andover's annual appropriations have increased less than half as much as its population over the last ten years, according to figures compiled by statistically minded selectman Roy E. Hardy recently. The population has increased 11.6 percent while appropriations have increased only 5.5 percent. Andover's official 1940 census population was 11,122, as compared to the 1930 figure of 5.5 percent.

Relief appropriations have increased $50,000 in the last ten years, most of this being traceable to the new Old Age assistance laws. School appropriations have increased $35,000. Debt service, despite the building of the new school plant, has decreased $27,000 in that period, and all other departments lumped together are down $13,000.

A large part of the tax increase in that period has been caused by the valuation decrease from $17,063,808 to $15,756,782. The 1930 rate was $25.90 and the 1940 rate $30.00. Appropriation figures compiled by Mr. Hardy are $441,700 for 1930 and $472,700 for 1940, these totals being the amount to be raised by taxation. Had the valuation not decreased because of the state law exempting machinery used in manufacture, the 1940 tax rate, on the 1930 valuation, would have been only about $28.00. Increased dwelling valuation and personal property valuation in the past decade would have further reduced it so that it would have been close to the 1930 rate.

SHOP FRIDAY Most Andover Stores will be closed SATURDAY

Last Friday morning a Melrose young man, en route home from Manchester, N. H., ended his journey on the front lawn of the house next to the Caronel apartments, after having nearly knocked off the corner of the apartment building. It is believed that either he dozed off, a tire blew, or something happened to the steering apparatus. A few feet more and the car would have been on somebody's front porch.

DEATHS

Andover's flags dipped to half-mast again last Saturday as a parting tribute to another veteran of World War I. Stephen J. Castle served in the navy at that time with the headquarters of Admiral Sims as a dispatch decoder in London.

Born in Plaistow, N. H., 43 years ago, Mr. Castle graduated from Haverhill High school and the Suffolk law school. He had lived on High street, in Ballardvale, for several years, during which he had been office manager for the Loose-Wiles Biscuit company in Boston. Early Saturday morning he passed away after a short illness.

The funeral was held Monday morning with a high mass of requiem at St. Joseph's church, burial following in St. Augustine's cemetery. A delegation from the local Legion and from the Loose-Wiles Biscuit company attended.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Loyola (Riley) Castle, a former Lawrence school teacher; a daughter, Loyola; his mother, Mrs. Sarah Castle of Plaistow; three brothers, Edward and William of Plaistow and Peter of Haverhill; three sisters, Winifred of Plaistow, Mrs. William McKenzie of Gloucester and Mrs. Milton McGrath of Brockton.

Into the home of George H. Fish of Mattapan grief came last Friday night when his bride of just two Junes ago, the former Mary Beer of 3 Summer street, passed away. Mary had lived most of her life in Andover and was well-liked by her many friends to whom the news of her passing came as a severe blow.

Save for her husband, all of Mary's surviving relatives reside in Andover: her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Beer; her sisters, Elizabeth, Anne and Helen; and her brother, Arthur, Jr.

A high mass of requiem was held in St. Angelum's church, Mattapan, on Monday morning, with burial taking place in St. Joseph's cemetery, West Roxbury.

Mrs. Abbie (Fessenden) Boutwell, a resident of West Andover for many years, passed away Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emma Cates, 57 High street, North Wilmington. She was born in Lawrence 69 years ago. She was the widow of Chester Boutwell.

Youngsters Delight Minstrel Show Audience

Now you take Deanna Durbin for instance. She's so cute, her smile's so infectious, her personality's so very likable that at times you're apt to forget that you're listening to some really beautiful music. It's much the same case with these McCarthy boys—or didn't you know that there were two of them? You remember Frankie of course, the little Wolcott avenue youngster whose engaging smile and whose clear, true tones captivated many an audience in these parts last year. Well, brother Jackie has joined Frankie, and the duet looks doubly promising.

But it is hard to say which the St. Augustine's C. Y. O. minstrel show audience liked the more Tuesday night: the youngsters' personality or their singing. Both merited a great deal of liking. Frankie's an old troupier by now, and his stage presence has not the least bit of self-consciousness to it. Furthermore, he has enough stage presence so that he can spare a little of it for brother Jackie. The younger half of the duet had been bothered by a cold, but the show must go on, and on it went. The harmony was excellent, but what tickled the audience most of all was Frankie's sidewise smile at his brother and the way in which his arm stole protectively over the youngster's shoulders.

The school hall was crowded for the first minstrel show staged by the church's new youth organization, and the show deserved a good crowd. The end men provided enough variety both for those who like slaphappy slapstick and for those whose tastes are not quite so rambunctious. It's a good end man who knows when to keep quiet, and these end men did curtail their activities during such features as Shirley Lacaille's tribute to Stephen Foster.

Sally O'Riordan's singing of "Little Curly Hair in the High Chair" was enthusiastically received, with part of the audience humming along with her. Interlocutor Jim Sheard did more than his share with a fine rendition of "Beautiful Dreamer" in the Stephen Foster cycle, and later a much-encored "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life." Joe Winters and Justine Kennedy sang "Winter Wonderland" in duo, and later Justine sang "Little Nellie Kelly" and Joe sang "Sunshine of Your Smile." When St. Augustine's was fortunate enough to get Marion Kennedy Naughton as its organist, it was doubly fortunate, for Marion's sister Justine has a very nice voice which is lent to parish affairs on occasion.

Barbara Carley did justice to "Alice Blue Gown." Frankie McCarthy's solo numbers were "Sierra Sue" and "Ireland Must Be Heaven," and with brother Jackie he sang "Little Sweetheart of the Valley" and "In the Valley of Yesterday."

The end men were Billy Tammany, Mike O'Dowd, Jimmy Morrissey, Johnny Burbine, Martin Darby and Jimmy Winters.

The chorus included, in addition to the specialty performers: Katherine O'Riordan, Betty Golden, Mary York, Marguerite Goodwin, Mildred and Miriam Fallon, Louise O'Dowd, Catherine Quill, James Goodwin, Thomas Brennan, Robert McDonald, Billie Burke and Paul Sheehy.

League To Discuss Town Warrant

The annual Town Warrant meeting of the Andover League of Women Voters will be held at the home of Mrs. Reginald Holt, 74 Bartlet street, Tuesday afternoon, March 4, at 2:30 p.m. This meeting will not follow the pattern of previous town warrant meetings, but will be less statistical, as the representatives of the several town departments have been asked to speak on Andover's growth and development as it affects their respective departments, and Andover's future needs, as seen now by the various boards. Articles in the warrant of particular interest and importance will be discussed. This meeting will be in charge of Mrs. George G. Brown and Mrs. William Fleming, co-chairmen of the League Town Affairs Department.

It will be held at the home of Mrs. William Fleming, 15 Pasho street, at 2:30 p.m. Thaxter Eaton, Town Treasurer, will speak on "Taxation pertaining to Andover."

Another innovation this year is a "sight-seeing tour" of Andover, to be conducted by Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Fleming, on March 7, the Friday preceding town meeting. Points of controversial interest to newer residents of Andover will be visited, such as the proposed new site for a public dump, the proposed Jewish cemetery, various recreational areas of the town and several other objectives.

Several field trips to local, county and state institutions, with which Andover has various connections, are planned during March and April and speakers from educational, judicial and correctional services will be heard during this study group period.

Mrs. Fred Whittier is the director of the cast which includes seventy people and has arranged for vocal selections by Mrs. H. Allison Morse, Mrs. Fred Hooper, Sam Bardsley, and George Morse.

Challenge To America League Meeting Topic

"We are the prize of the world," stated A. E. Irving of Tufts College as he addressed the Friday afternoon meeting of the League of Women Voters. Mr. Irving has made a study of South America and its relations to the United States in trade and defense. He continued to say, "There is a definite challenge to the United States and we must do something about it. No matter how we act, either for England or not, this issue of Europe will be carried to us because we are the ultimate goal of a crowded European Continent."

Mr. Irving went on to say that the whole conception of life as it has been in the 19th century will be changed under the Nazis, because win or lose, they will have swayed some of the world. We also will change for it will come out of the world revolution and appeasement will do no good.

"What has all this to do with South America? South America despises Hitler more than it does us, so it has made us friendly. It has really established the Monroe Doctrine and it has given us the great opportunity in history. Furthermore, we must dispel prejudice against us and make our policy help them as much as to help us. This is the biggest chance we have and if we fail, it will throw us out of the Economic World."

In conclusion, Mr. Irving said we have a challenge quite different from Europe and we must set up a model League of Nations. In this lies the opportunity of the Western Hemisphere to have world leadership.

An informal question period followed the meeting and tea was served.

WHERE TO GO WHAT TO DO

Final preparations are being made to complete the current drive by the American Bureau of Medical Aid to China, Inc., to raise funds. The activities will close on February 22 and will be in the form of a George Washington Ball held at Davis Hall, Abbot Academy, tickets for which may be purchased from the dance committee chairman, Miss Alice Jenkins.

Although Colonial dress is not required, those wishing to may be attired as George and Martha were, in the hopes of winning a prize for the best costume—gentleman or lady. Dancing to the music of the Biltmore orchestra will combine a mixture of old-fashioned square and round dances and modern popular dances.

The committee in charge of the ball are Miss Alice Jenkins, chairman; Fred Cheever, Mrs. Shirley Barnard, Mrs. Clifford North, Mrs. Frances P. McClellan, Mrs. Phillips Graham, Mrs. Henry Hopper, Mrs. Arnold C. Graham, Mrs. Henry S. Jenkins and Edward C. Nichols.

Cornelius A. Wood is chairman of the Executive committee, and is assisted by Winsor Gale, Roy W. Hall, Morris L. Hallowell, Judge Colver J. Stone and Joseph P. Oakes, the latter acting as master of ceremonies. Morris Hallowell, another member of the committee, will deliver a message from his excellency, the Chinese ambassador.

The Women's Committee includes Mrs. Harold E. Abbott, Mrs. Frank D. Ashburn, Mrs. W. Shirley Barnard, Mrs. Edward F. Durgin, Mrs. James G. Fenton, Mrs. Charles P. Gabeler, Mrs. Arnold C. Graham, Miss Marguerite Hearsey, Mrs. Thomas H. Lord, Mrs. C. D. McDuffie, Mrs. William A. Russell, Mrs. T. H. Saford, Mrs. Robert Saltonstall, Jr., Mrs. Walter C. Wilson, Mrs. John G. Wolcott, Mrs. F. W. H. Stott, Mrs. Henry S. Jenkins, Mrs. Carl F. Pfatteicher, Miss Alice Jenkins, Mrs. Bert G. Spaulding and Mrs. C. D. Shaw.

Games and a dance all the same night? Quite a unique idea, but that is exactly what the Sorority of Our Lady is planning for your enjoyment this evening in the St. Augustine's School Hall for only 25 cents. The general committee includes the Misses Eileen Lawson, Theresa Whalen, Betty Costello, Sally O'Riordan, Anne Scanlon, Bernice Mundy, and Anne McCarthy. The hall will be attractively decorated in red, white and blue in honor of George Washington's Birthday by Mildred Fallon, Betty Golden, Katherine Quill and Kathryn McCarthy. Claire Flaherty will act as mistress of ceremonies to keep the party lively, and Harold Phinney will be in charge of the musical portion.

Two art exhibits will take place at the Addison Gallery this week. The first, Grant Wood's Regional Art Exhibit and lecture which will be held on Friday, February 21. The lecture will be in the George Washington Hall at 8:15; the paintings consisting of watercolors from five regions of the United States proving the effect of local influence on contemporary art, will be at the Gallery immediately following.

The second exhibition shows the evolution of a mural painting made by the art instructor at Exeter Academy and will remain until February 24.

They certainly must be excellent by this time. Who? Pierre Luboshutz and Genia Nemenoff, famous duo-pianists who have been playing ensemble music since they were children and who will render various selections on Friday evening, February 28, at George Washington Hall, Phillips Academy.

Luboshutz began his career at the age of four as a violin player; however, he soon switched to the piano and made his important debut in Moscow. His partner, both in life and on the concert stage, is Genia Nemenoff, who at one time was his pupil. Their concert, to be presented Friday night, will include Bach's "Sicilienne," "Minuet Antico," by Seebeck, "Rondo," by Weber, Handel's "Passacaglia," "The Lark," by Glinda, "The Flight of the Bumble Bee," by Rimsky-Korsakoff, and lastly, a song written by Levitski dedicated to Luboshutz and Nemenoff, entitled "Valse Tzigane."

Tomorrow night's the night for all of you who have not yet seen the Punchard All-Girl Band perform to witness the marvelous work they have done under the supervision of Miss Miriam Sweeney. Where? At the Policeman's Ball, of course. Entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock sharp, the band opening the hour of entertainment, followed by Uncle Bob and His Gang. Dancing until one o'clock in the Memorial Auditorium gymnasium will be enjoyed to the music of Al St. Claire's orchestra.

This year Gregory Christie and Peter Dantos will sell refreshments in the Cafeteria for funds to aid Greece.

The Ambulance Problem

In its preliminary budget request this year the fire department asked for enough additional money to pay for two extra permanent men. The department's argument mainly was that there are so many ambulance calls, necessitating the absence from the station of a regular driver, that at times when the fire engines are called out, there are not sufficient drivers to man all the trucks. And that sounds like a good argument: when we have a fire, we do like the trucks to get out, don't we?

Last year the ambulance was out about 500 times. Of course on many of those occasions no difficulty presented itself, because no fire came along to require the engines to go out. But if both ambulances were out on calls, and if a serious fire happened at the same time, there would be a truly unfortunate situation under the present set-up.

Extra men would of course remedy this possible trouble, but an annual extra expenditure of $3,000-$4,000 should be avoided if there is any other way out of it. That annual expenditure would buy a new ladder truck in four years or so.

Let us analyze a supposed case. A driver is out with the ambulance taking a sick person to the hospital. The fire alarm rings. One driver gets in the new pump and off he goes; another starts the old ladder truck percolating, and if luck is with him, off he goes, too. How about the other engine? The call men are arriving, awaiting transportation to the fire, but there's no one to drive the engine; the driver's out in the ambulance. Maybe the chief or the deputy hops aboard and drives it off; it arrives at the fire and has to be left unguarded, for certainly the heads of the department have to be at the fire and not out in the street with the engine.

Two thoughts occur. Wouldn't it be a good idea to teach the callmen how to drive a piece of apparatus in case they are needed? It wouldn't seem too intricate a job, and there's no doubt but that our callmen could do it. They'll be regular men some day, and the experience won't hurt them. Then if the ambulance were out, a callman could take out the other engine and stay with it at the fire. Certainly this would be a better plan than to put on extra men to hang around a good part of the year doing nothing but waiting for the not-too-frequent chance that sometime the ambulance might be out when a fire occurs. If there are any kind of rules that forbid this, those rules need changing.

The other thought is this: why so many ambulance calls? Are they all necessary? Certainly if a sick case is not a stretcher case, if it would do a person no harm to sit up going to or coming from a hospital, it is absurd to call the ambulance. It might be out when somebody really needs it. This would lop off a large number of calls—and here probably it's not the fire department that controls the situation: it's the town doctors who should recommend the ambulance only when absolutely needed. And then there's another question: why should the ambulance be a free service for the ordinary private sick case? That's right; it doesn't cost you a cent to ride in the ambulance. And yet that is just as much part of your treatment as the doctor's bill, the hospital bill, the medicine bill. Some will say: "The taxpayers bought it, why don't they have the right to use it?" The taxpayers bought the snow plows; why can't we all have our own driveways ploughed free of charge? The town buys moth equipment; why can't we have our private orchards sprayed free of charge? The town has pumping equipment to furnish water; why not have this health-giving water supplied free? Where a patient can afford to pay for the ambulance, he should be charged for it, just as he is charged for private ploughing, private spraying, private water. There's no valid reason why the taxpayers of Andover should pay the original cost of an ambulance, send out one of its regular firemen, call in another man whom they pay by the hour for the trip, and subject the machine to miles of wear and tear just because you're sick. You should pay for that private service just as you pay for your doctor.

FOR CLOSING TWO BRADLEE GRADES

Ballardvale, Mass.,

January 17, 1941

To Whom It May Concern:

At the present time many people of this community are up in arms over the fact that the report has been circulated that our local school is to be closed.

This report is untrue and the only change contemplated is to transport the two highest grades to the central schools. Many parents are objecting to this and cannot see why this should be done.

I have two boys who have attended school in Ballardvale and the third one enters school in September. I have always kept in touch with the schools and have hardly missed a day that I haven't kept track of homework and the progress being made in their lessons. When my oldest boy reached the seventh grade I was very much alarmed to find that he was not receiving as much from a rural school as I had received from attending city schools almost twenty years previous. At that time I was president of the Bradlee Mothers' Club, a member of the National Parent-Teacher Association, so I thought that it was my duty to call this situation to the attention of the Superintendent of Schools.

Mr. Sanborn, who was superintendent at the time, thought my idea of having the children from the seventh and eighth grades transported to the central schools, an excellent one and said he would take it up with the school committee. The school committee acted, with the result that the two grades were removed to Andover.

The same situation existed at that time: many parents were against it, the same as they are today and the same old story was circulated that it meant the closing of the Bradlee School. I have made a careful check-up of the parents who had children that this new rule affected and they have told me that they never realized what the children were missing until they had attended the schools in Andover.

I would be one of the first to fight if I thought that there was any danger of the first four grades being removed to Andover. Most parents today have at least a high school education and they can help Susie and Johnnie with the work in the first four grades of school. The fifth grade is an important one and as methods change so rapidly it is important that from there on the pupils should be in a school with all the pupils of that grade in one room.

In Ballardvale we have two grades in one room. This method is fine for the brilliant child but a handicap for the child who cannot grasp as quickly. The teachers we have had and the ones we now have are excellent and parents who have the interest of their children at heart should co-operate with them in every way; the teachers appreciate a talk with the parents as to the progress that Susie and Johnnie are making with their lessons.

In all fairness to the school committee, how can we expect to keep this one grade open when as near as I can find out there will be only seven pupils in the two grades? I think the school committee is acting wisely in this matter and I also think that after every parent who has a child that will be affected by this rule, has given it careful study and investigated a little that they will readily agree with me.

I would like to say at this time that I am not a candidate for school committee as many of my friends believe, although I do have the same name as the candidate now running for office.

Mildred E. Brown
(Mrs. Edwin W. Brown.)

Tea Opens

John Esther Exhibit

A tea held at the John Esther Art Gallery on Wednesday, February 12, announced the opening of an exhibition of work done by the students of the Boston Museum School. Russell T. Smith, head of the school, discussed informally the students' curriculum, explaining the progress and range of their work—illustrating his talk by examples of the students' work through four years' time. The exhibition included various subjects such as musical interpretations, perspective units, form, jewelry designs, sculpture and etchings.

Following Mr. Smith's talk, tea was served in the lower gallery where oil paintings by Maud and Patrick Morgan, and work of Alicia Atkinson, are being shown.

The public is welcome to visit the gallery from 10 a.m. to 4:30 on weekdays, and from 12 to 4:30 on Sundays. February 26 will mark the close of this particular exhibit.

As Time Marches On— So Does the High Cost of Food

The writer of this advertisement has been working behind the grocery counter and meat block for the past fifty-six years. As time has marched on he has seen some great changes in the price of foods. Before the coming of the great food chains and mammoth super-markets there was spread all over these United States almost a million independent grocery stores, meat shops, and the old-fashioned butcher wagons. I will quote you the high prices of those days: Hams 11c to 12c, Shoulders 5c-6c, Slab of Bacon 8c-9c, Pork Chops 3 lbs. 25c, Salt Pork 5c-6c, Round Steak 2 lbs. 25c, Rump Steak 15c, Sirloin Steak 18c-20c, Beef Liver 3c, Calves Liver 2 lbs. 15c, Fowl 8c-9c, Chickens 10c, Geese 10c, Turkeys 12½c. Today there are 75% less independent food men, but in their places have come the food chains and super-markets. Now with this change in the system of selling food to the American housekeeper has come the high prices she is paying today for the same food items mentioned above. One can't put the blame on the Independent Food men because they do not believe in this system of doing business, taking everything and giving nothing in return in the way of service.

Time will keep marching on and so will the Independent Food Men who have the courage to face this problem. The more one patronizes these men of courage the quicker food prices will return to where they belong. Remember, we have the same kind of Beef, Pork, Poultry and Grains since the world began. There has been no change in Nature's methods to warrant an increase in the retail price of its products. The reason for these higher prices lies in the practices of certain groups of men.

Historical Society Open House Saturday

The Andover Historical Society, as usual, will hold "Open House" on February 22 from 3 to 5 for members and their friends.

Philip B. Bradbury, President of the Glass Club, will be the guest of the afternoon, answering questions about the glass which will be on display. Guests are invited to bring pieces about which they are seeking information.

A series of lectures on The Town of Andover, under the auspices of our society, is being given as a part of the Evening Study Groups at Phillips Academy. Upon request, these lectures in typewritten form, will be available at the Historical House for consultation.

Six have already been given. Members of the society are invited to attend, as guests, any one of the three remaining lectures. They will be held on Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 8:30 at the George Washington Hall.

On February 19, Frederick Allis will speak. "Early Authors of Andover" is his subject.

On February 26, Jane Carpenter's subject will be "How One of Andover's Schools Achieved Fame—Abbot Academy."

On March 5, F. William Clarenbach, of North Andover, will tell of the beginning of the Textile Industry in "How Andover Wove Its Woolens."

Many a Massachusetts town is celebrating its tercentenary. Early history, ancient houses, distinguished citizens are being remembered once again. Andover's 300th anniversary comes around in 1946 with its memories and traditions—bringing the question of a suitable recognition.

The course of lectures mentioned above is in line with the necessary research.

All citizens who can contribute data of similar nature are asked to help.

Ballardvaliants Agree To Grade Closing

It look like everybody's going to be happy about the Bradlee school situation. Monday evening a meeting of those interested in the proposed project to transfer the upper two grades to the Central schools was held in the Vale—and unanimously they voted an "Okay" to the school committee, which incidentally has not discussed it yet officially. However, when they do discuss it, they will know that there will be none of the expected opposition from the Vale.

The vote carried a stipulation that if the potential size of the two grades should increase they should be returned to the Vale. It is anticipated that the fifth and sixth grades there will have only seven pupils at the most, total, next year.

Somehow a rumor was around that the board planned to close the school. This was absolutely without fact.

Mrs. Stermey Cormey, Frederick Nowell and Clyde Mears were appointed to act for the group.

VALE AMATEUR SHOW MARCH 1

General dancing will then follow.

Then take the road and try its ride!

A soft, steady, gliding new Ford ride that takes good road or bad in a satisfying new kind of stride. And notice the quietness of this big Ford!

There's news at your Ford Dealer's that's too good to miss! News in comfort. News in value. And news in a "deal" that you'll find easy to take!
